St. Luke's International University, College of Nursing
WHO Collaborating Center for Nursing Development in Primary Health Care

―PCC Activities 2016―

<2016年度の業績>

Assist WPRO and Member States in the development of community People-Centered Care (PCC) models, based on the values of PHC in the context of aging societies.

Development of Health Literacy for People in the Community

<Report>

<Presentation>
1) Fujita, H., Sato, K., Matsumoto, N., Takahashi, K., Hishinuma, M., Funada, A., et al. (2016, July). Challenge to offer program for the community by the library with using health literacy educational material. The 33rd Meeting on Medical Information Services, Nagasaki City Library (Nagasaki, Japan).
<Others>

Development of an intergenerational care model for health promotion

SAFETY on! Fall prevention program for older adults living in an urban community

Share Japanese lessons with other Member States on the implementation of health literacy programmers, resulting in a better engagement of women and their families with health care providers.

Action of the Nurse Midwife of the Sex Education for the Young People

Family-Centered care models — sibling preparation class

Educational program for children and parents about the prevention of Asbestos exposure

Help build capacity in nursing and midwifery education in low resource countries of the WPRO region.

<Research article>

<St. Luke’s Bulletin>

<Conference presentations>

5) Shimpuku, Y., Madeni, F., Horiuchi, S., & Leshabari, S. (2016, December). Construction of a community system that promotes health of pregnant women analyzing the working situations of traditional birth attendants in rural Tanzania. The 31st Annual Meeting of the Japan Association for International Health, Kurume City Plaza (Fukuoka, Japan).

Others

